Project Description

According to the ADB website, this project will provide support for Armenia in hosting the 17th Meeting of the Conference of the Parties (COP17) to the Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD).

The project leverages the comparative advantage of Asian Development Bank (ADB) as a multilateral development bank (MDB) with experience supporting countries in delivering on their commitments to multilateral environmental agreements, mobilizing development finance, and translating country commitments into investable projects. The project is focused away from logistical support, rather to support the government to deliver an inclusive, knowledge-driven, and sustainable COP17. The TA is designed to ensure that Armenia's hosting of COP17 contributes to building institutional capacity, developing policy dialogue, and creating the environment for future biodiversity-positive investments.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main.
