

Description of Outcome

Philippines: Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility

Project Status Approved Project Type / Modality of Assistance Source of Funding / Amount Loan: Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility Ordinary capital resources Environmentally sustainable growth Inclusive economic growth Drivers of Change Governance and capacity development Knowledge solutions Sector / Subsector Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport Gender Equity and Mainstreaming Description A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects with international knowledge access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of sophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and one project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through apa analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as a national ro	Project Name	Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility
Project Type / Modality of Assistance Source of Funding / Amount Loan: Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility Ordinary capital resources Environmentally sustainable growth Inclusive economic growth Inclusive economic growth Inclusive economic growth Drivers of Change Governance and capacity development Knowledge solutions Sector / Subsector Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resource; projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resource; projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resource; projects with international expertise to supplement national expertises and resourcement, and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy The current administration under the Ten-Point Socioeconomic Agenda aims to ramp up public infrastructure projects such as national canage and publ	Project Number	50288-001
Project Type / Modality of Assistance Source of Funding / Amount Loan: Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility Ordinary capital resources US$ 100.00 million Strategic Agendas Environmentally sustainable growth Inclusive economic growth Mainstreaming Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport Gender Equity and Mainstreaming No gender elements A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (ii) effective indentification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (ii) effective indentification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects with international expertise and indoor management; (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best post projects with international expertise in supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational aireas for IAD through gap analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Infrastructure investment, and acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asia Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, amenity DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help a	Country	Philippines
Source of Funding / Amount Loan: Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility Ordinary capital resources Environmentally sustainable growth Inclusive economic growth Inclusive In	Project Status	Approved
Strategic Agendas	Project Type / Modality of Assistance	Loan
Strategic Agendas Environmentally sustainable growth Inclusive economic growth Drivers of Change Governance and capacity development Knowledge solutions Sector / Subsector Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport Gender Equity and Mainstreaming Description A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure gaps, especially roads, surban transport, urban water, sanitation, and flood management; (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and infrastructure investment in the government requested to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of ODP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, namely DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help accelerate the Investment Coordination Committee review and approval process and ensure timely, high-quality procurement and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of investmion project formulation and implementation. An ADB-funded Project and its international procurement systems would facilitate DPWH and DOT races to required specific technologies, internatio	Source of Funding / Amount	Loan: Infrastructure Preparation and Innovation Facility
Drivers of Change Governance and capacity development Knowledge solutions Sector / Subsector Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport Gender Equity and Mainstreaming Description A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure gaps, especially roads, urban transport, urban water, sanitation, and flood management, (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of sophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through gap analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. The current administration under the Ten-Point Socioeconomic Agenda aims to ramp up public infrastructure projects such as national roads, expressways, bridges, airports, subways, and railways. Public spending on infrastructure is expected to reach 7% of gross domain project product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of innovation, expertise, advice, and best practices would enable DPWH and DOTr to incorporate expertise and innovation in project formulation and implementation. An ADB-funded Project and its intern		Ordinary capital resources US$ 100.00 million
Sector / Subsector Agriculture, natural resources and rural development - Rural flood protection Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport Render Equity and Mainstreaming Description A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure projects such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of ophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through gap analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition, (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy Project Rationale and Linkage to The current administration under the Ten-Point Socioeconomic Agenda aims to ramp up public infrastructure projects surfacture in sexperted to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the poals of infrastructure projects surfacture projects, amely DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment to government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help th	Strategic Agendas	Environmentally sustainable growth Inclusive economic growth
Fransport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban public transport No gender elements A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure gaps, especially roads, urban transport, urban water, sanitation, and flood management; (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international expertise, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of sophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through gap analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy Country/Regional Strategy The current administration under the Ten-Point Socioeconomic Agenda aims to ramp up public infrastructure projects such as national roads, expressways, bridges, airports, subways, and railways. Public spending on infrastructure is expected to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, namely DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help accelerate the Investment Coordination Committee review and approval process and ensure timely, high-quality procurement and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of innovation, expertise, advice,	Drivers of Change
Description A technical assistance loan is proposed as the financing modality. The Project will directly support DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure gaps, especially roads, urban transport, urban water, sanitation, and flood management; (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of sophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through gap analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Linkage to The current administration under the Ten-Point Socioeconomic Agenda aims to ramp up public infrastructure projects such as national roads, expressways, bridges, airports, subways, and railways. Public spending on infrastructure is expected to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, namely DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help accelerate the Investment Coordination Committee review and approval process and ensure timely, high-quality procurement and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of innovation, expertise, advice, and best practices would enable DPWH and DOTr to incorporate expertise and innovation in project formulation and implementation. An ADB-funded Project and its in	Sector / Subsector	Transport - Road transport (non-urban) - Transport policies and institutional development - Urban
DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure gaps, especially roads, urban transport, urban water, sanitation, and flood management; (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of sophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through gap analysis and support for country system development in key areas such as: (i) land acquisition; (ii) procurement; and (iii) start-up delays. Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy The current administration under the Ten-Point Socioeconomic Agenda aims to ramp up public infrastructure projects such as national roads, expressways, bridges, airports, subways, and railways. Public spending on infrastructure is expected to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, namely DPWH and DDTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help accelerate the Investment Coordination Committee review and approval process and ensure timely, high-quality procurement and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of innovation, expertise, advice, and best practices would enable DPWH and DOTr to incorporate expertise and innovation in project formulation and implementation. An ADB-funded Project and its international expertise, and innovation, complementing and building on nationally availa	Gender Equity and Mainstreaming	No gender elements
infrastructure projects such as national roads, expressways, bridges, airports, subways, and railways. Public spending on infrastructure is expected to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, namely DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help accelerate the Investment Coordination Committee review and approval process and ensure timely, high-quality procurement and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of innovation, expertise, advice, and best practices would enable DPWH and DOTr to incorporate expertise and innovation in project formulation and implementation. An ADB-funded Project and its international procurement systems would facilitate DPWH and DOTr access to required specific technologies, international expertise, and innovation, complementing and building on nationally available expertise. The Project will help DPWH and DOTr to more effectively execute and implement public infrastructure projects by accelerating the due diligence stages, detailed engineering designs, and the bidding process preparation. The Project is included in the Country Operations and Business Plan 2017 2019. It contributes to the inclusive economic growth and environmentally-sustainable growth agenda of the Midterm Review of Strategy 2020. Impact Infrastructure development accelerated.	Description	DPWH and DOTr to deliver more effective and more innovative infrastructure projects. The key benefits include: (i) effective identification, analysis, and planning for infrastructure gaps, especially roads, urban transport, urban water, sanitation, and flood management; (ii) addressing critical constraints such as resettlement processes and inadequate access to international knowledge, best practices, innovation, and technology; and (iii) implementation management of sophisticated public infrastructure projects with international expertise to supplement national expertise and resources. The Project will also help address key operational areas for ADB through gap analysis and support for country system
	Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy	infrastructure projects such as national roads, expressways, bridges, airports, subways, and railways. Public spending on infrastructure is expected to reach 7% of gross domestic product (GDP) by 2022 or approximately $14.5 billion annually, from the current level of 3.4% of GDP in 2016. To materialize the goals of infrastructure investment, the government requested the Project from the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to help the two key agencies responsible for national public infrastructure projects, namely DPWH and DOTr, conduct pre-investment activities which will in turn help accelerate the Investment Coordination Committee review and approval process and ensure timely, high-quality procurement and implementation. To enhance national capacity, additional access to international sources of innovation, expertise, advice, and best practices would enable DPWH and DOTr to incorporate expertise and innovation in project formulation and implementation. An ADB-funded Project and its international procurement systems would facilitate DPWH and DOTr access to required specific technologies, international expertise, and innovation, complementing and building on nationally available expertise. The Project will help DPWH and DOTr to more effectively execute and implement public infrastructure projects by accelerating the due diligence stages, detailed engineering designs, and the bidding process preparation. The Project is included in the Country Operations and Business Plan 2017 2019. It contributes to the inclusive economic growth and environmentally-sustainable growth agenda of the Midterm Review of
Project Outcome	Impact	Infrastructure development accelerated.
	Duois et Outes

Delivery and quality of public infrastructure projects improved

Progress Toward	d Outcome
Implementatio	n Progress
Description of Project Outputs			Road and bridge projects prepared. Water projects prepared. Rail, public transport, port, and airport projects prepared. Project development management systems improved.
Status of Implen	nentation Prog	ress (Outputs, Activities, and Issues)
Geographical Lo	cation		Nation-wide
Safeguard Cat	egories
Environment			С
Involuntary Rese	ettlement		С
Indigenous Peop	oles		С
Summary of Er	nvironmental	and Social Aspects
Environmental Aspects		The Project focus is on improving public system management and providing consulting services to support in the preparation of infrastructure projects for DPWH and DOTr. As such, it is not expected to have any direct adverse social and environmental impacts or to impact indigenous people. The project's environmental safeguard category is classified as category C.
Involuntary Resettlement		The project's social safeguard cate	gory is classified as category C for involuntary resettlement.
Indigenous Peop	oles	The project's social safeguard category is classified as category C for indigenous people.
Stakeholder Co	ommunicatio	n, Participation, and Consultation
aç		The fact finding mission was held during 24 February- 14 March 2017 with respective government agencies: Department of Finance (DOF), National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA), Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH), Department of Transportation (DOTr).
During Project Ir	mplementation
Business Oppo	ortunities
Consulting Services	All consultants will be recruited according to ADB's Guidelines on the Use of Consultants (March 20: amended from time to time). Three consulting packages will be advertised in 2nd quarter 2017, foll Quality-Based Selection (QBS) to ensure highest possible standard of services. The Client for the co contracts will be the government through DPWH and DOTr. Individual consultant packages will be a 3rd quarter 2017. Advance action will be undertaken by ADB on behalf of the Government. The con signed after the loan is declared effective.		packages will be advertised in 2nd quarter 2017, following st possible standard of services. The Client for the consultancy H and DOTr. Individual consultant packages will be advertised in
Procurement	for the co	There is no procurement of goods and works under the Project, procurement of office equipment and furniture for the consultants will be carried out by the consultants under their contract in accordance with ADB's Procurement Guidelines (2015, as amended from time to time).
Responsible ADE	3 Officer	Leather, Jar	mes
Responsible ADE	3 Department	Southeast A	Asia Department
Responsible ADB Division		Transport a	and Communications Division, SERD
Executing Agencies		DOF Buildir Bangko Ser	t of Finance ng ntral ng Pilipinas Complex ., Manila, Philippines
Timetable
Concept Clearar	nce	11	Jan 2017
Fact Finding		24	Feb 2017 to 14 Mar 2017
MDM			lun 2017

13 Jun 2017

27 Oct 2017

29 Oct 2017

 MRM

Approval

Last Review Mission
Last PDS Update

Project Page	https://www.adb.org/projects/50288-001/main
Request for Information	http://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form?subject=50288-001
Date Generated	03 November 2017

ADB provides the information contained in this project data sheet (PDS) solely as a resource for its users without any form of assurance. Whilst ADB tries to provide high quality content, the information are provided "as is" without warranty of any kind, either express or implied, including without limitation warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, and non-infringement. ADB specifically does not make any warranties or representations as to the accuracy or completeness of any such information.