Description	The Integrated Disaster Risk Management Fund (IDRM Fund) is administered by ADB on behalf of its financing partner, the Government of Canada, and with an implementation period of March 2013-March 2020. As ADB prepares to close the Fund, documenting and sharing lessons learned among stakeholders in Southeast Asia is a priority. Given the broad scope of projects, activities, and knowledge generated across the seven DMCs, including the support for ASEAN, the TA will facilitate the identification and consolidation of lessons, achievements, and best practices to contribute to a potential scaling-up of sustainable investments. It will highlight the practical implementation of the Operational Plan for Integrated Disaster Risk Management 2014-2020 and the contribution made to the broader resilience agenda, as articulated in Strategy 2030.
Project Rationale and Linkage to Country/Regional Strategy	Established in 2013, the Integrated Disaster Risk Management Fund (IDRM Fund) aims to achieve an increased access to, and use of, IDRM tools by key stakeholders, including vulnerable groups, particularly women, in Southeast Asia. Financed activities respond to the Fund's six priority outputs: (a) enhanced risk identification and analysis; (b) increased investment in disaster risk reduction; (c) improved access to disaster risk finance, including for the poor, particularly poor women; (d) scaling up of community-based and gender-focused approaches; (e) increased regional cooperation on integrated disaster risk management; and (f) enhanced knowledge and tools for integrated disaster risk management.
