Private Actors Description

As stated by the ADB, Lanka Orix Leasing Company PLC (LOLC) is one of the strongest and fastest growing NBFIs in Sri Lanka, offering financial services through various subsidiaries, in particular LOLC Micro Credit Ltd. (LOMC) and Lanka Orix Finance PLC (LOFC), before their official merger in 2018. LOMC's primary focus was microcredit, distributed through the group lending mechanism, but it also offered individual loan contracts to graduated clients, mostly on the microcredit level, but with a tendency of reaching a higher market segment. In addition, LOFC served larger enterprises with asset backed financing. Within the new competitive landscape, LOLC needed to adjust its business model in order to continue growing and better servicing more underbanked customers. LOLC has identified a new potential target segment comprising large micro-enterprises and small to medium-sized enterprises.
