Project Description

According to ADB website, the Community Vegetable Farming for Livelihood Improvement project is a pilot initiative aiming to improve the livelihood of smallholders involved in vegetable production in selected soums of four of Mongolia's aimags: Bornuur in Tuv, Orkhon in Darkhan-Uul, Ulaangom in Uvs, and Yeruu in Selenge. This is to be achieved by introducing a community farming model, applying improved climate-resilient farming practices, strengthening farm-to-market linkages, and integrating farming groups into inclusive agriculture value chains. Project beneficiaries will be vegetable growers, seed producers, and household-based food processers across the four sites.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main
