Project Description

According to the bank's website, "The knowledge and support technical assistance (TA) cluster _Support for Innovation and Technology Partnerships in Asia and the Pacific_ was approved on 7 December 2018. The TA cluster will support developing member countries (DMCs) of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) in effectively identifying high-level technology (HLT) solutions for development projects by using a competitive technology innovation challenge approach. It will enable early collaborations with technology providers from the public and private sectors, academia, and research institutes, while building capacity in DMCs to develop sustainable projects and programs with HLT applications. The TA cluster aims to support DMCs' objective to introduce HLT in projects, drive sector and thematic technology innovations, and provide guidance on how to proceed to project preparation and due diligence. It will also support knowledge sharing related to development-oriented technology innovations and early adoption in Asia and the Pacific.

Three subprojects have been defined under the TA cluster: (i) Capturing and Sharing Technology Innovation Knowledge (Subproject 1); (ii) Energy Sector High-Level Technology Application (Subproject 2); and (iii) High-Level Technology Application to Address Development Challenges (Subproject 3)."

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main
