Project Description

According to the bank document, the proposed TA aims to gather and share the operational knowledge and policy lessons on TVET that ADB and other developmental partners have accumulated and learned in the PRC with other CAREC member countries. The TA will also underline gender dimensions and specify gender analysis. The PRC's domestic policy interventions and innovations on vocational education and TVET will be reviewed and examined. The TA will also build upon the findings of the CAREC education scoping study. The TA is expected to improve the operational efficiency of TVET programs, strengthen the institutional capacities of key stakeholders in TVET sector, and be a reference for policy reforms in the PRC and other CAREC member countries. The TA will work within the ambit of broader CAREC education initiatives and its outputs will support those endeavors. And it will help other CAREC member countries to improve the design and implementation of ADB-supported projects for higher development effectiveness.

The project's output is expected to improve the knowledge sharing between the PRC and other CAREC member countries enhanced; quality of policies and practices in TVET in the PRC and other CAREC member countries.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main
