Project Description

According to the bank document, "the Project will assist the Lao Peoples Democratic Republic to implement its National Water Management Strategy and Action Plan 2030 in the three central provinces of Bolikhamxai, Khammouan, and Vientiane Capital.

In order to increase water supply for crop diversification and to ultimately improve nutrition. The Project has four outputs: (i) Flood water harnessed, and damages reduced,

(ii) water reliability during droughts reduced,

(iii) agro-meteorological systems modernized, and

(iv) nutrition awareness and facilities improved.

The project will support post-COVID-19 economic recovery and rural resilience by

(i) generating rural employment through construction;

(ii) increasing incomes through the reduction of flood damages and losses and diversification into high value crops; and

(iii) investing in better diets and sanitation".
