Project Description

According to the bank's website, "The Chittagong Hill Tracts (CHT) is one of the poorest regions of Bangladesh. Poverty in CHT stems from prolonged under-development in the five forms of capital which are necessary to sustain livelihoods and improve overall human well-being namely: (i) physical capital (i.e., the lack of roads and bridges, telecommunications, water supply, irrigation and agriculture facilities; (ii) human capital (i.e., the lack of access to education and vocational skills and health services; (iii) social capital (i.e., prevailing political tensions, fragmented local leadership, lack of governance and social exclusion; (iv) natural capital (i.e., unsustainable land uses as a result of uncertain tenurial rights, and increased climate vulnerability; and (v) financial capital (i.e., lack of personal savings and credit, limited inward remittances, and the limited flow of development funds from both the public and private sectors)."

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main.
