Project Description

According to the Bank’s website, the knowledge and support technical assistance (TA) will support the preparation of a comprehensive study evaluating the policies needed to build a firm foundation of income opportunities to protect and improve the lives of the rural low-income population in the southwest region of the People's Republic of China (PRC). Paying particular attention to Guizhou province, the TA will support the preparation of policy recommendations to strengthen both agriculture and non-agriculture sectors that have the most impact in ensuring labor income opportunities of the rural low-income population. The TA will help bring the low-income population to a better state and include them in the development process by strengthening economic activities in the southwestern region of the PRC.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main.
