Project Description

According to the bank disclosure statement, the primary objective of the Technical Assistance Cluster is to prepare 14 Green City Action Plans (GCAPs) for selected cities, delivered through three sequential subprojects. GCAPs are sustainable urban development plans that include economic, social, climate, physical, and risk profiles; city-level baseline analyses covering climate vulnerability and greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions; and a list of green and quality infrastructure investment (QII) projects. Subproject 3 marks the final phase, tasked with completing GCAPs for the remaining four cities, following the successful preparation of GCAPs under the earlier phases. The cities under Subproject 3 are well positioned to benefit from the lessons learned during previous implementations. These lessons are incorporated into the design of Subproject 3, to prevent implementation challenges and improve efficiency, enabling SP3 to progress at a much faster pace than previous subprojects.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: <https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form>

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: <https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: <http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main>.
