Project Description

According to the bank's website, the project that focuses on providing knowledge and technical support "will generate policy-relevant knowledge in the areas of remittances and financial literacy and/or inclusion of migrants and the remittance recipients in selected countries of Southeast Asia. It will generate unique, survey-based longitudinal data on remittance inflows, financial literacy, and behaviors on remittance transfer and utilization among migrants and the remittance recipients/family members in the subregion. In addition, the TA will support impact evaluations of technology-assisted financial literacy programs targeting migrants and their family members. The TA knowledge outputs will support policy decision-making to design better financial literacy programs for migrants and remittance recipient families."

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: <https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form>

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: <https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: <http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main>.
