Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the proposed TA will support the Indonesian government to improve the spending efficiency of its national health insurance scheme, with the aim of achieving financially sustainable universal health coverage that delivers good quality of care. The need for a sustainable universal health coverage scheme is even more pressing as the country restructures its health system in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. Both the Ministry of Health (MoH) and the national health insurance agency, Badan Penyelenggara Jaminan Sosial Kesehatan (BPJS-K), will be closely involved in implementing the TA. The TA will assess the current level of efficiency in the current national health insurance operations. It will then diagnose the root causes and binding constraints that result in low efficiency, and thereafter design potential solutions to alleviate these constraints. The effectiveness of the solutions will be evaluated, with a view to identifying implementation constraints and scaling up successful elements.

Investment Description

- Asian Development Bank (ADB)

The TA financing amount is $2,000,000, which will be financed on a grant basis by the Japan Fund for Prosperous and Resilient Asia and the Pacific (JFPR) and administered by ADB.
