Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the development plan encourages investments to accelerate poverty reduction and reinvigorate job creation in the country. The development plan also aimed to ensure food security and improve access to food, especially among the most vulnerable.

The project's primary beneficiaries include its existing employees, Dali's additional personnel, and the communities they will serve. The project will provide income and employment opportunities to low-income people.

The project will help expand Dali's retail and warehousing operations. This expansion will improve people's access to basic food and non-food products. People with low incomes will especially benefit as Dali offers these products at discounted prices. In addition, establishing new stores can provide employment opportunities to local communities and market access for local suppliers, thereby providing stable income sources.

Early Warning System Project Analysis
