Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the technical assistance (TA) will support activities (on a pilot basis) to increase the positive development impact of ADB operations in Developing Member Countries.

The technical assistance (TA) will support improvements in the quality of upstream diagnostics, project preparation, implementation, and evaluation across about a dozen Asian Development Bank (ADB) projects and programs that have been identified for piloting. The methodologies for such improvements will be piloted and will not only improve the quality of those projects and programs but will also generate lessons and approaches (and cost implications) that are expected to improve the development impact of ADB operations for all developing member countries in the years after TA completion.

Working with client governments, the TA will support upstream diagnostics through the preparation of country diagnostic studies, sector and thematic diagnostics, and private sector development diagnostics.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: <https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form>

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: <https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: <http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main>.
