Project Description

According to bank's website, the technical assistance cluster subproject aims to improve the quality, delivery, and sustainability of investments for resilient, water-secure, and inclusive urban development in the Pacific through three key outputs. First, it will mobilize specialists to provide targeted implementation support covering engineering, procurement, safeguards, financial management, and gender to agencies implementing ADB loans and grants in the water and urban sector, including developing improvement plans for at-risk projects. Second, it will build a national expert pool by funding training attachments for early-career professionals in Pacific developing member countries (initially Solomon Islands and Tuvalu), while also creating a cadre of national consultants in financial management, safeguards, and gender, supported by mentoring and training. Third, it will promote regional capacity building and peer-to-peer learning through events such as the Pacific Water and Wastewater Association's annual conference and other regional exchanges.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: <https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form>

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: <https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: <http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main>.
