Project Description

According to bank disclosure statement, this initiative aims to fortify the resilience of farming, herders, fisherfolks, and forester communities against the unpredictable forces of nature. The project seeks to develop tailored national digital solutions to empower farmers with the knowledge and tools necessary to transform the agrifood system and navigate climatic uncertainties by leveraging advanced agroclimatic services, implementing state-of-the-art early warning systems, and fostering the digitalization of the agriculture and natural resources sectors. As the region grapples with the increasing challenges posed by climate change, this collaborative endeavor strives to create a robust international network that spans both East and West Asia and the Pacific, fostering a united front in safeguarding agricultural livelihoods.

The TA will assist ADB in (i) upstream knowledge and program or project conceptualization, (ii) designing project proposals and supporting implementation readiness, and (iii) strengthening the institutional capacity of executing and implementing agencies.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

You can submit an information request for project information at: https://www.adb.org/forms/request-information-form

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main.
