Project Description

According to the bank's website, the "project seeks to address the critical barriers that are leading to limited tourism spending, low average lengths of stay, and inadequate community benefit by diversifying tourism experiences and opening new tourism destinations, especially in nature-based tourism around Tonle Sap". Also, the project seeks "to stimulate private sector participation and investment, solve connectivity infrastructure gaps, strengthen destination management, and build the capacity of tourism SMEs. The project will integrate climate resilience and sustainability and leverage digital solutions throughout the interventions to improve livability and enhance protection of the regional and national natural and cultural assets on which tourism is built. The refined proposed project outcome is to create integrated, diversified, inclusive, and climate resilient tourism destinations in Cambodia's Central Economic Sub-corridor".

ADB has a two-stage appeals process for requesters who believe that ADB has denied their request for information in violation of its Access to Information Policy. You can learn more about filing an appeal at: <https://www.adb.org/site/disclosure/appeals>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF ADB

The Accountability Mechanism is an independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an Asian Development Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Accountability Mechanism, they may investigate to assess whether the Asian Development Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can learn more about the Accountability Mechanism and how to file a complaint at: <http://www.adb.org/site/accountability-mechanism/main>.
