Project Description

According to AIIB website, the project aims to develop the Asia debt capital market with a specific focus on infrastructure-related bonds as an asset class. To maximize impact, the project focuses on corporate bonds issued by infrastructure-related issuers (including quasisovereign) and green bonds, where proceeds are directed to sustainable infrastructure and other productive sector projects. At this initial phase of debt capital market development, project bonds and other infrastructure-related fixed income securities are not the focus of this credit portfolio.
