Project Description

According to the bank's website, the project aims to "catalyze private capital for nature finance in support of China's ecological transition and Kunming-Montreal Global Biodiversity Framework". Also, "the Nature Finance Accelerator Program (NFAP or "the Program") is AIIB's first standalone investment initiative dedicated to nature finance - an emerging and increasingly critical area within sustainable finance. The Program aims to scale up investments in nature infrastructure, nature conservation, and nature-based solutions. Under the Program, AIIB will work with Bank of Huzhou Co., Ltd. (BOH) and other partner banks through its on-lending facilities to support a portfolio of high-impact, nature-related subprojects aligned with the MDB Common Nature Finance Taxonomy. The subprojects will be primarily located in China's Zhejiang and Jiangsu provinces and are expected to contribute to a paradigm shift toward ecological civilization. The NFAP will also adopt a programmatic approach that combines subproject preparation with capacity building activities to mobilize private capital at scale."
