Project Description

As stated by the AIIB, the objective of this co-investment is to provide a sustainable infrastructure solution for Chile's central region experiencing high drought risk and water stress by financing desalination plant, thereby addressing the growing water scarcity crisis in the region.

Alongside Patria Infrastructure Fund V (the Fund), AIIB is making an equity co-investment in Aguas Pacifico. The Aguas Pacifico project (the Project) is a water desalination initiative located in Chile's central region, designed to address water stress and climate change impacts by providing a sustainable freshwater source. The Project is being developed in two phases: Phase I includes the construction of a 1,000 liters per second (l/s) desalination plant, a 104 km aqueduct, and an electricity substation. Phase II will expand the plant's capacity to 2,000 l/s.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

According to the AIIB, the Project has been categorized as Category B with high-risk rating, considering the significant environmental and social (ES) impacts on marine and terrestrial biodiversity due to brine discharge to the marine environment and aqueduct passing through biosphere reserve, and potential occupational health and safety issues due to civil construction activities including a 6 km tunnel development.

ESDD concludes that the pipeline installation in this Project is not causing any physical displacement but, in some areas, it temporarily causes economic displacement on some stakeholders, that are treated and compensated in alignment with the relevant mechanism. Project-affected people (PAPs) have been economically compensated by Aguas Pacifico for these temporary losses. In addition, Aguas Pacifico engages with local men and women and it is evolving to more structured gender-inclusive strategies. AIIB encourages and will monitor efforts to promote gender diversity and equity through community-based initiatives.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF AIIB

The AIIB has established the Accountability Mechanism for Project-Affected People (PPM). The PPM provides an opportunity for an independent and impartial review of submissions from Project-affected people who believe they have been or are likely to be adversely affected by AIIB's failure to implement the ESP in situations when their concerns cannot be addressed satisfactorily through Project level GRMs or AIIB Management processes. Two or more project-affected people can file a complaint. Under the current AIIB policy, when the bank co-finances a project with another development bank, it may apply the other bank's standards. You can refer to the Project Summary Information document to find out which standards apply. You can learn more about the PPM and how to file a complaint at: <https://www.aiib.org/en/about-aiib/who-we-are/project-affected-peoples-mechanism/how-we-assist-you/index.html>
