Project Description

According to the Bank, the Project is expected to have a highly developmental impact in Ecuador through the provision of financial services to microenterprises. Despite their importance to the Ecuadorian economy, microenterprises lack the necessary access to financing. In Ecuador, the microfinance financing gap is estimated at $2.2 billion, with a specific gap of women micro-entrepreneurs estimated at $266 million. In addition, Ecuador's commercial capital, Guayaquil, has been one of the hardest-hit areas of COVID-19 in Latin America with a poverty rate of 14% and the highest rate of 1 Over the next five years, DFC funding will support an estimated 28,000 microentrepreneurs in Guayaquil.

Contact Information

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

Unlike many other development finance institutions, DFC does not currently have an access to information policy.

Under the United States Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), DFC is obliged to respond to reasonably formulated requests for Agency records. However, DFC may apply exemptions from release to certain types of information and may charge fees in responding to requests. DFC has a designated FOIA officer who is trained in how to respond to requests and implement the law. You can learn more about filing a FOIA request at: <https://www.dfc.gov/foia>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF THE UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FINANCE CORPORATION (DFC)

The Office of Accountability is an independent office that addresses complaints about environmental or social issues related to DFC-supported projects. The office provides communities an opportunity to have concerns independently reviewed and addressed. If you submit a complaint to the Office of Accountability, it may assist you by either seeking to address your problems by facilitating a problem solving dialogue between you and those implementing the project and/or investigating whether the DFC complied with its policies to prevent environmental, social, human rights, and labor harms.

You can find more information about the Office of Accountability at: <https://www.dfc.gov/who-we-are/office-accountability>
