Project Description

According to DFC, the proposed project is expected to have a highly developmental impact in Sri Lanka through a business model that provides value to plastic waste, and thus encourages increased recycling. Sri Lanka is estimated to account for a fifth of the plastic trash deposited into the Earth's oceans each year, and 45% of households in the country still burn their trash. The Project Company helps to reduce waste and strengthen the country's recycling infrastructure by contracting with local MSMEs to collect plastic bottles, which are then converted into synthetic filament and polyester yarn. Through DFC support, the Project is expected to create jobs in Sri Lanka and contribute to the collection of 6,000 tons of plastic annually.

Contact Information

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

Unlike many other development finance institutions, DFC does not currently have an access to information policy.

Under the United States Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), DFC is obliged to respond to reasonably formulated requests for Agency records. However, DFC may apply exemptions from release to certain types of information and may charge fees in responding to requests. DFC has a designated FOIA officer who is trained in how to respond to requests and implement the law. You can learn more about filing a FOIA request at: <https://www.dfc.gov/foia>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF THE UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FINANCE CORPORATION (DFC)

The Office of Accountability is an independent office that addresses complaints about environmental or social issues related to DFC-supported projects. The office provides communities an opportunity to have concerns independently reviewed and addressed. If you submit a complaint to the Office of Accountability, it may assist you by either seeking to address your problems by facilitating a problem solving dialogue between you and those implementing the project and/or investigating whether the DFC complied with its policies to prevent environmental, social, human rights, and labor harms.

You can find more information about the Office of Accountability at: <https://www.dfc.gov/who-we-are/office-accountability>
