Project Description

As stated on the project disclosure page, the Borrower is seeking a $50 million, eight-year secured corporate loan to increase accessibility and affordability of used specialized farm equipment and precision agriculture technology (sourced from U.S. producers).

According to the DFC, the Project will reduce the barrier Argentine SME farmers face accessing advanced farm machinery and adopting precision agriculture technology by enabling Metalfor to sell used machines on affordable 5-year installment plans instead of 3-year plans. This reduces the size of the annual payment and increases accessibility for smaller SME farms that struggle to manage debt payments amid high crop price and yield volatility. Furthermore, as part of the DFC-supported Project, Metalfor will offer training to all customers purchasing used machinery.

Moreover, the Project will enable the Borrower to introduce a technology package add-on for used equipment that includes AI-powered digital tools that increase precision application. This technology will lower the amount and cost of inputs (fertilizers, pesticides, fungicides, etc.) while improving yields.
