Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the objective of the Interim Independent Evaluation: FP025 "GCF-EBRD SEFF Co-financing Programme" is to provide evaluative evidence covering the entire intervention. It will measure the overall impact, effectiveness, efficiency, sustainability, replicability and lessons learned of the project. This includes also the identification of areas of deficiencies in the project's design and implementation, material changes in the baseline that may have occurred during project implementation, and material changes related to key stakeholders that impact implementation progress. Furthermore, it shall also assess potential impacts from Covid-19 and other geopolitical realities on the project. The final evaluation shall assess and provide recommendations to improve the effectiveness of results and impacts to make future operations better, thereby contributing to "institutional memory" (lessons learned or quality management orientation).

The TC project is aligned with the Bank's Green Economy Transition Approach. A final evaluation of the project will also enable the EBRD to identify and capture lessons learnt from the project that can be applied to similar projects in the future. Main beneficiary for this assignment is EBRD.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF EBRD

The Project Complaint Mechanism (PCM) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD)-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the PCM, it may assess compliance with EBRD's own policies and procedures to prevent harm to the environment or communities or it may assist you in resolving the problem that led to the complaint through a dialogue with those implementing the project. Additionally, the PCM has the authority to recommend a project be suspended in the event that harm is imminent.

You can contact the PCM at: pcm@ebrd.com or you can submit a complaint online using an online form at:
