Project Description

According to EBRD website, the project will transfer the production of steam and blast air for ArcelorMittal Zenica's steelworks and the production of district heating water for the City of Zenica, from currently ArcelorMittal Zenica to a modern CHP owned by the Borrower. The Project will entail the replacement of all outdated, coal-based steam generators with modern units fully using recovery gases from the steelworks and natural gas (as back up). The transition impact of the proposed project will be derived from:

- energy efficiency improvements; and
- improved environmental performance of the CHP in terms of CO2, SOx, NOx and dust emissions, primarily resulting from the replacement of equipment with new BAT units as well as change in fuel mix (discontinuing use of coal and maximising the recovery of waste gases from the steel plant).

The Project Complaint Mechanism (PCM) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD)-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the PCM, it may assess compliance with EBRD's own policies and procedures to prevent harm to the environment or communities or it may assist you in resolving the problem that led to the complaint through a dialogue with those implementing the project. Additionally, the PCM has the authority to recommend a project be suspended in the event that harm is imminent. You can contact the PCM at pcm@ebrd.com or you can submit a complaint online using an online form, http://www.ebrd.com/eform/pcm/complaint_form?language=en.
