Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the EBRD is investing CAD 81.5m (c. USD 60 million) in Eldorado Gold Corporation, a Canada-based mining company with operations across Turkiye, Greece, and Canada. The Bank's financing will support the development of the Skouries copper-gold project operated by Hellas Gold S.A., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Eldorado. The Skouries mine, part of the Cassandra mines complex, is located in the Halkidiki Peninsula of Northern Greece and is the key growth driver of Eldorado.

The proposed transaction represents the Bank's first mining investment in Greece. The Bank's involvement in the Project will support one of the largest foreign investors in the country with an extensive global experience in mining operations and development.

The EBRD's investment will be used to finance the development, construction and operation of the Skouries copper-gold project in Greece. The Project will enable the Company to expand into copper production over the next 20 years, which is in addition to its existing polymetallic production at the Olympias mine in Greece, and hence increase the support for long-term mining of a critical metal for the green transition.
