The EBRD investment will raise capital for the development and construction of renewable energy projects in the region, including HAU's most imminent project, namely, the 1.1 GW Gulf of Suez wind farm in Egypt.

The Project will further promote private sector participation in the Egyptian power sector and support the roll-out of renewable energy projects in Egypt and the region to achieve the nationally declared targets.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

Categorised B (2019 ESP). The project involves an investment in the Company to support the development of renewable energy projects in Egypt. At this stage this is expected to be wind projects but there is the potential for other RE projects, including solar. The first, and immediate, use of proceeds will support early development costs such as studies, investigations, etc., that have been incurred and therefore the Project has been categorised as B. Through the equity investment, the Company will need to align its activities and the sub-projects it supports with the Bank's E&S requirements. Sub-projects will be categorised on a case-by-case basis and E&S due diligence (ESDD) undertaken at the appropriate time.
