Project Description

According to FMO website, The project addresses lower quality and inefficient healthcare services in Elazig, Turkey. At present, nation-wide provision of hospital beds is low (currently 2.6 beds/ 1000 people vs 4.8 beds/ 1000 people in the OECD), and hospital space per bed is limited (currently 55m² vs 175 m² in line with international standards) in Turkey. Furthermore, the proposed transaction fits with FMO's strategy since FMO finances a "green" hospital in a UMIC country: as confirmed by the second party opinion of Vigeo. Additionally, FMO stimulates private sector in healthcare which is traditionally state-dominated: as private sector will provide 19 different services during the operation period of 25 years under the concession. e.g. supply of medical equipment and clinical support services such as laboratory/ imaging/ sterilization services, furnishing/ maintenance/ repair of the facilities, waste management, catering, linen and laundry services, security services. Hence, the project entails more than only real-estate development, with substantial job creation impacts (during construction 3,200 direct and 300 indirect jobs supported under EPC contracts,during operation period more than 3,800 direct and indirect jobs supported under O&M contracts). FMO derives additionality through stamp of approval and long-term financing for one of the major PPP projects in Turkey: FMO derives its additionality by boosting investor confidence weakened after the recent turmoil in the country. FMO contributes to one of the first healthcare PPP projects of the country where the legal infrastructure took nearly 8 years to develop.
