Project Description

Spartan Technology Rentals (Spartan) is a South African financial services provider, established in 1981. The institution is fully specialised in asset backed lending to small and mid-sized businesses (SMEs) with a focus on technology assets including machinery, specialized equipment, software finance and working capital finance.

Fmo is providing a 5-year ZAR equivalent senior loan of USD 3.5 mln to Spartan to support their recent strategic change towards full SME dedication with a focus on specialised SME finance.

FMO's key rationale for the investment is to support and increase access to finance for SMEs in South Africa. Almost all of Spartana's targeted SMEs have limited access to credit from traditional banks which lack specialized knowledge and perceive these SMEs as high risk. Instead, these SMEs are forced to use short-term working capital or overdrafts to finance their acquisition of technology and other specialised equipment. This creates a cash flow mismatch and inhibits their growth activities.

Financial Intermediary

Financial Intermediary: A commercial bank or financial institution that receives funds from a development bank. A financial intermediary then lends these funds to their clients (private actors) in the form of loans, bonds, guarantees and equity shares. Financial intermediaries include insurance, pension and equity funds. The direct financial relationship is between the development bank and the financial intermediary.

Private Actor Relationship

There is often limited information publicly available about what development banks are funding through financial intermediaries. In 2021, the Early Warning System partnered with Oxfam International to incorporate information on high-risk projects being funded by financial intermediaries receiving funding from the International Finance Corporation (IFC) and the Dutch Development Bank (FMO).

The information listed below describes the relationship between the different private actors linked to high-risk sectors and subprojects of IFC and FMO's financial intermediary investments and/or the financial intermediary's parent companies made from 2017 through 2020, including any associated ring fences.

The database, however, does not explicitly or implicitly imply that IFC or FMO have material exposure to or are contractually or legally accountable to the sub-projects financed by their financial intermediaries or the financial intermediary's parent companies. It only shows a seemingly financial relationship among the different private actors, the financial intermediaries, and IFC or FMO.
