Project Description

Cocoa is Ghana's most important agricultural product. However, traditionally, a high percentage of cocoa beans is exported with low- to no value added locally. Supported by this investment, Niche will expand its range of activities to cover the entire value chain - from bean-to-bar - within Ghana. This will lead to further employment, technical know-how, and value addition within the cocoa sector, all of which contribute to the country's socio-economic development. The USD 9M facility will be used to purchase an instant powder line, a ready-to-drink line, and equipment for producing chocolate spreads.
