Project Description

According to the Bank's website, Ecua America Teak ("EAT"), an Ecuadorian forestry company, intends to expand the existing plantation by another 500 ha, upgrade its sawmill and acquire new machinery and equipment within the next years. FMO will finance this expansion with the proposed loan.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

This concerns an E&S B+ categorized investment, as the company engages in primary production and primary processing of teak (own operations and a supply chain) which comes with potential adverse environmental or social impacts that extend site boundaries and might in part be irreversible, although they can be prevented and addressed through relevant mitigation measures. E&S characteristics of this specific investment include assessment of the land acquisition process, history of the land and no deforestation, production practices and use of agrochemicals, labour and accommodation conditions, organizational Health and Safety, biodiversity, and pollution risk management. The E&S context include potential environmental and social risks in their company's supply chain -not limited to- child labor, and poor working conditions.

FMO's environmental and social due diligence indicates that the investment will have impact which must be managed in a manner consistent with the following IFC Performance Standards in particular: PS 1 - Assessment and Management of Environmental and Social Risks and Impacts PS 2 - Labor and working conditions PS 3 - Resource Efficiency and Pollution Prevention, PS 4 - Community Health, Safety and Security, and PS 6 - Biodiversity Conservation and Sustainable Management of Living Natural Resources.

The following Performance Standards, PS 5 Land Acquisition and Involuntary Resettlement, 7 Indigenous Peoples and 8 Cultural Heritage, are not applicable in this period, as the land have been acquired through willing buyer-willing seller transaction, and no impact on Indigenous Peoples, nor cultural heritages has been identified.
