Strengthening of the National Registry of Popular Neighborhoods (RENABAP) through information and management technologies and its integration with other existing systems

Project Description

As stated by the IADB, the objective of this TC is to strengthen the institutional capacity of the Ministry of Social Development by strengthening and improving the National Registry of Popular Neighborhoods (RENABAP) through: (i) the inclusion of information and management technologies to detect new informal settlements or changes in existing ones, using AI; and (ii) the integration of RENABAP with existing climate change prevention and mitigation systems and projects.
This technical cooperation provides direct support to the Urban Social Integration and Housing Improvement Program (AR-L1361). It is also complementary to AR-T1220. The TC is expected to contribute to the Program by developing innovative management and monitoring tools for poor neighborhoods to address the effects of both the housing deficit and climate change.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
