Project Description

According to the IADB, the objective is to strengthen the institutional capacity of INCRA to support sustainable economic development, productive inclusion, and income generation for beneficiaries of agrarian reform settlements during the post-titling period. Specific objectives are: (i) strengthen systems and capacities for monitoring and managing post-titling socioeconomic and productive outcomes in agrarian reform settlements; (ii) improve coordination between INCRA and public and private service providers to expand beneficiaries' access to rural credit, technical assistance and rural extension services (ATER), markets, productive infrastructure, and social programs; (iii) strengthen institutional mechanisms for environmental regularization, sustainable land use, and climate-resilient production systems in settlement areas; and (v) develop evidence-based tools and knowledge management mechanisms to improve the design and implementation of post-titling support policies and programs.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at <http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html> (in English) or <http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html> (Spanish).
