Complement of the feasibility study for the project "Improving the quality of water resources" in a pilot basin in Colombia

Project Description

This CT will complement the analytical studies that will be carried out by RG-T3477, through the implementation of the results of the aforementioned studies in a basin prioritized by the MVCT, deepening the level of detail on the operations prioritized in the previous one, for which a pre-feasibility study will be carried out to the recovery of the quality of the water resource in the selected basin. Conceptual designs for wastewater treatment and pre-identified resource quality preservation actions will be developed with a focus on circular economy. Additionally, conceptual designs will be proposed to mitigate the main pollutant sources in the basin, such as the final disposal of solid waste and the management of environmental liabilities, within a circular economy approach.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
