Project Description

The project seeks to offer credit with a new green loan product, technical knowledge and marketing alternatives, through information technology mechanisms and technical assistance offered to small-scale producers, in order to implement innovative measures of sustainable adaptation that avoid losses or reductions in crop yields, and to improve value chain efficiencies. It also seeks to increase small farmer incomes through better management of risks associated with climate change, such as floods, droughts, hurricane winds, hail and other extreme weather events, as well as to reduce credit transaction costs.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
