Support to the Design and Monitoring of the Integral Rural Productive Development Program

Project Description

According to IADB website, the project aims to support the preparation and implementation of HO-L1201 by providing key elements for the design including the monitoring system. Specific objectives include (i) gathering key socio-economic information of small agricultural producers which are potential beneficiaries of the program, (ii) identifying the current poverty situation of these potential beneficiaries, their agricultural potential and the interventions needed to help lift them out of poverty in a sustainable manner, and (iii) designing a geo-referenced information system to monitor advances in the implementation of the program and the evolution poverty among beneficiaries of the Program.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
