Project Description

Based on the Memorandum of Understanding between the IDB and the Selva Negra Foundation, the opportunity to support the Ahuisculco Ejido was identified to reduce deforestation and increase the resilience in the Sierra de Ahuisculco. The Sierra de Ahuisculco is located approximately 40 km from Guadalajara, Jalisco, an area that suffers a strong deforestation pressure as well as a process of forest degradation and severe soil. It should be emphasized that the activities of this technical cooperation will allow the reduction of landslides and the protection of the areas of environmental importance around Guadalajara's metropolitan area. The expansion of the urban spot in this area has had severe consequences on its environment and requires better planning to strengthen this biological corridor, which represents an area of distribution for 1,000 species of flora and fauna (with species in threatened status, danger of extinction and special protection).

Investment Description

- Inter-American Development Bank (IADB)

The 0.15 investment is through the form of non-reimbursable technical cooperation.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
