Project Description

Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC) has greatly expanded agricultural production since the second half of the 20th century. However, social and environmental problems persist: rural poverty and exclusion continue to be predominant problems in LAC. In this context, the innovative solutions developed by Agtechs play a fundamental role in addressing these challenges, in the region, and in the transition towards inclusive and sustainable food production models. The Yield Lab Latam is a regional fund focused on investments in high impact opportunities in the Ag & Food Tech sector. The fund will invest in 20-30 of the most promising companies in the region that are addressing the most important challenges in the sector.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
