Project Description

According to the Inter-American Development Bank, this project will address the demand for increasing institutional capacity in the field of behavioral economics. Through the newly created working group on behavioral economics, the Bank will maximize synergies and the generation of networks with partners and world-renowned specialists to support better public policy designs in the region.

This project includes three components:

1. Knowledge creation. Under this component, behavioral economics experts will be consulted to support development of interventions in the region.
2. Increase human capital. This project will increase human capital through courses and seminars on behavioral economics by international experts for regional knowledge.
3. Distribute information. The last component involves disseminating information and sharing best practices in the region.

Investment Description

- Inter-American Development Bank (IADB)

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
