Project Description

It is in this context that this technical cooperation (TC) is presented, whose objective is to contribute to promoting access to safe services of water and sanitation in the rural sector of Latin America through the development of strategies based on the analysis of experiences and in the framework of the Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) and the DHAS, with a special emphasis on the sustainability of services. To this end, it is proposed to work in four areas: (i) support for the development and application of information systems to plan both investment and support for the management of rural services; (ii) systematization of experiences, intervention models and lessons learned, and dissemination of knowledge, which will lead to the development of strategies to encourage and guide future rural operations in the region; (iii) specific support to rural AyS programs to improve the sustainability of services and achieve the objectives of the SDG and DHAS; and (iv) development of knowledge tools and products and their dissemination.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
