Project Description

The project seeks to support systemic change innovators, who are capable of influencing public policies, contributing to change the narrative in front of migrant communities, and demonstrating that solutions can be co-created with themselves. In this way, Venezuelan migrant agents of change are made visible so that they show the value they represent for the countries that receive them. This change of narrative, in addition to being present in the general communication of the project, will be carried out through a campaign in which the stories of agents of change and teams made up of migrants and non-migrants will be taken as examples to change the wrong perception that many people have times of the Venezuelan migrant. At the same time, with Ashoka's Globalizer methodology, the project reinforces the productivity of social entrepreneurs, along with connecting them with decision makers and experts, consolidating their business models and generating a strategy to raise resources, to make projects grow and increase their impact.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
