Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the objective of this project is to create a tokenized map of the entire Amazon basin to provide public and private actors engaged in regional development with a common tool for planning, monitoring, and reporting on investments and projects. This map combines environmental, social and economic data that can be combined with information on projects, investments and transactions in an intelligent geo-referenced system that is open, transparent and accessible to all stakeholders and the general public. Each token or pixel of this digital map is linked to a database that aggregates a maximum of available information and data on social, economic, and environmental parameters. A backend of artificial intelligence and semantic data analysis allows to generate an intelligence at the service of the analysis of these data and the modeling of events and processes that projects, and investments must address or prioritize.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at <http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html> (in English) or <http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html> (Spanish).
