Project Description

According to the IADB, the objective of this TC is to support the policy formulations for accelerating clean ammonia development in Latin American and the Caribbean (LAC) by conducting studies on (i) challenges, opportunities, and benefits of producing, consuming and exporting clean ammonia for decarbonization of heavy industries, heavy transportation, and power generation sectors in selected countries, and strategies for its development; and (ii) gap analysis of regulatory, financial, technical, and environmental and social aspects, including safety measures. The TC will also aim to obtain and use existing knowledge and experience in public policy strategies, regulation, subsidies and incentives, and public-private partnerships of other countries. The countries of focus are Colombia, Brazil and Chile, considering their readiness of key enabling factors, including availability of clean energy resources and policy frameworks related to green hydrogen (a key precursor for green ammonia).

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at <http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html> (in English) or <http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html> (Spanish).
