Project Description

According to the IADB, the objective of this technical cooperation is to strengthen public policy design in urban contexts by studying the factors that determine differences in water consumption. This approach focuses on: (i) specific household characteristics (size, gender composition, race, sexual identity, presence of people with disabilities, etc.) to develop policies that close access gaps; (ii) management elements for operators, such as tariffs, campaigns to minimize consumption, and support for the exchange of residential amenities; and (iii) the environment surrounding households (urban context, density, infrastructure availability, etc.) to identify the connections between land use and water security from a regulatory perspective in four pilot cities in Brazil, Ecuador, and Mexico.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at <http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html> (in English) or <http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html> (Spanish).
