Project Description

According to the IADB, the general objective of this Technical Cooperation is to contribute to the IDB's leadership in the school feeding agenda in Latin America and the Caribbean by generating evidence, regional knowledge, and operational inputs that support the design, implementation, and supervision of efficient, sustainable, nutritious, and context-appropriate school feeding programs. The specific objectives are to: (i) generate comparative evidence on the real costs, cost drivers, and operational models of school feeding programs in selected Caribbean countries, with a focus on food security, efficiency, sustainability, and contextual adaptation; (ii) produce an updated regional snapshot of school feeding in Latin America and the Caribbean, identifying trends, gaps, innovations, institutional models, and lessons learned to inform policy dialogue, regional learning, and strategic investment decisions; and (iii) develop practical inputs and knowledge translation products to support IDB project teams and country counterparts in the preparation, implementation, and supervision of school feeding operations.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at <http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html> (in English) or <http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html> (Spanish).
