Project Description

According to the IADB, the general objective of this technical cooperation is to support evidence-based agricultural policymaking in Central America by generating rigorous empirical evidence to inform policy design and implementation. The specific objectives are:(i) Identify and prioritize agricultural policies and interventions that effectively boost agricultural productivity, leveraging existing agricultural data (e.g., census data, agricultural surveys, and geospatial data) and applying rigorous quantitative methodologies.(ii) Inform the targeting of agricultural policies and interventions through subnational analysis of context-specific determinants of productivity, including territorial heterogeneity, producer typologies, and climate vulnerability.(iii) Strengthen institutional capacity and foster knowledge exchange among national agencies to support the design and implementation of evidence-based agricultural policies in Central America.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
