Private Actors Description

As stated by the IDB Invest, the Rocktree Group ('Rocktree', the 'Sponsor' or the 'Company') is a global commodities infrastructure group that unlocks the flow of high-priority commodities - including agricultural products, iron ore, bauxite, liquids among others - through an integrated platform of floating transshipment terminals, port infrastructure and river transportation assets. Rocktree operates across the Americas, Africa, the Middle East and Asia, with the Project comprising its Latin American river logistics, ports and shipyard platform along the Paraguay–Paraná waterway. The Sponsor recently acquired the Atria Group and its subsidiary companies including UABL and OTC operations in Paraguay and Argentina, and prior to the acquisition, formed a new Transshipment Operations hub in Uruguay.

Through its regional operations in Latin America, the Group is expanding its presence in the Paraná–Paraguay waterway. The proposed financing aims to support this expansion by refinancing the bridge facility for the acquisition of Atria and by funding new growth investments in the region, thereby providing a long-term capital structure to enable the development of the Sponsor’s integrated regional river transport platform.
