Project Description

As stated by the IFC, MHP has requested IFC for a working capital loan to support MHP's strategy to increase its presence and grow including financial support to increase the land under cultivation up to approximately 500,000 ha by year 2016 in connection with the Company's expansion plan in farming and poultry operations. Once the first phase of the Vinnytsia new poultry facilities comes online in 2013, MHP's working capital requirements are expected to increase to be financed through internal cash generation and IFC debt.

This would be IFC's fourth investment in the MHP. In 2003, IFC initially invested in MHP to support its efforts in chilled poultry distribution and sunflower feed technology (Project ID 21071). IFC followed-up with an equity investment and a loan in 2005 (Project ID 24011) for further expansion of existing facilities and construction of new ones in Mironivsky's complex of integrated operations.
