Project Description

The proposed project, ADM Capital Somei Lending Platform (the “Facility”), aims to set up a lending facility platform that will invest in medium sized companies in Asia, targeting stressed, turnaround and growth investments. The Facility would extend loans to companies with strong fundamentals but facing difficulty raising new financing due to financial imbalances, inability to access conventional bank financing avenues, or track record challenges. The objective of the Facility would be to provide funding to otherwise sound companies and position them for growth.

Expected Development Impact

- Private sector support: The platform would enable stressed or growth Asian companies to obtain funding with terms that allow them to recover, rehabilitate or grow. Currently, local bank financing is limited to this type of debtors. The inability to access liquidity/growth funding or (re)financing capital could drive stressed companies, mostly medium enterprises (MEs), to become NPAs or, for growth companies, prevent creation of productive enterprises.
- Job creation: Apart from special situations investments that save jobs, Somei will also invest in growth companies, which in their expansion will support and may create jobs that would support economic growth.
- Market setting: The project would lay the foundation for the development of an effective stressed investment and credit solution culture which, in turn, may contribute to the stabilization of Asian financial systems and private sector development in the target countries, i.e., Philippines, Indonesia, Thailand, China, Vietnam, India, Cambodia, Sri Lanka. It would further promote international best practices in terms of stressed and growth investing, servicing and exit.
- Medium enterprises rehabilitation and support: The Facility would contribute to the recovery of MEs that have been unable to honor their debts due to financial difficulties and to the creation of MEs through growth funding.
